

Whether you are creating your dream closet or organizing your smallest closet, KC Custom Closets are the experts when it comes to designing and building efficient spaces in Kansas City. They have built over three thousand closets, pantries, garages, laundry rooms, and home offices since 2013.

Jeff Kleba. “Because we don’t employ salespeople, we can design a closet without the pressure to upsell at every turn.”

Before opening KC Custom Closets, Jeff and his team designed and installed cabinets in professional offices, schools and medical laboratories. This experience gives them a different perspective when

You may see some similarities to national closet franchises, but there are several things that set KC Custom Closets apart.

“We do not have multiple layers of salespeople, project managers, production staff, and installers. I personally work with every client from start to finish,” said owner creating storage solutions for your home. They also have the knowledge and skill to work on projects which may require more customization or creativity.

KC Custom Closets is a full-service design and installation company. As part of their process they will tear out your existing closet, repair walls/paint, and install your new closet. They also have relationships with several personal organizers who can help edit your wardrobe as you move back into your closet.

“Our clients do not have to deal with multiple contractors and schedules. We handle it all, most of the time in one day,” said Kleba.

KC Custom Closets has completed projects all over the metro from Olathe to Blue Springs to Stilwell and Liberty. They even built a closet and pantry in Bella Vista, Arkansas.

KC Custom Closets understands the need to adhere to Covid-19 health and safety guidelines.

“Fortunately, our service does not necessarily require close interaction with the customer,” stated Kleba. “When we come to the home, we can easily maintain social distance while measuring the closet.

We can draw up a design on the spot, or I can work on the design in my office. We will do whatever the customer is comfortable with. Virtual consultations are also available.”

KC Custom Closets will bring color and hardware samples to your home. They also maintain a display at Town Center Plaza in Leawood, KS, which showcases a variety of components, hardware and colors. ■

TIP...

When most people think of custom closets, they picture homes of celebrities and professional athletes, but the majority of our customers are not looking for their closet to be featured on a magazine cover. They are just looking for the peace an efficient and organized space can bring.
